

United States Court of Appeals
FOR THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT

Argued December 13, 2021

Decided February 13, 2021

No. 9-1

ALEX J. CABOT,
Appellee

v.

GEORGE E. ORWELL,
Appellant

Appeal from the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in 4:20-1111 DCDC (2021), District Judge Boston.

JOHN A. DOE, Washington, District of Columbia, argued for the appellants.

JANE B. DOE, Solicitor General of the United States Department of Justice, Washington, District of Columbia, argued for the appellees.

Before: GRANT, Chief Judge, and GINSBURG and BURGER, Circuit Judges.

Test. The United States District Court has time and time again ruled against the act of torture and the specific intent of individuals. United States v. Cabot, 9 U.S. ____ (2020) also held that speedy right trials per 18 U.S. Code § 0000 must be maintained and trial must conclude upon multiple perquisites being satisfied in accordance to Barker v. Wingo, 00 U.S. 000 (1890).

We have time and time again come under scrutiny and whether or not the law permits certain actions but reviewing and interpreting the Supreme Court.
